1. Welcome to the Team

Greenhouse Winery is a Pennsylvania winery with multiple locations. We make our own wine using imported juice and serve customers through our tasting rooms, private events, live music weekends, and wine festivals. Every staff member — regardless of how many hours they work — represents the Greenhouse brand directly to our guests.

This guide will get you ready for your first shift. It's short and practical by design. You don't need to memorize everything — you need to know where to find it.

2. Legal Requirements — Read This First

> ⚠ Pennsylvania RAMP Compliance — Required by Law
> Pennsylvania law requires staff who serve alcohol to complete RAMP (Responsible Alcohol Management Program) training.
> RAMP training is available at: www.lcb.pa.gov/RAMP
>
> Greenhouse Winery must maintain RAMP certification records for all serving staff.

ID Verification — Non-Negotiable

You must check ID for anyone who appears under 25. No exceptions.

- Acceptable IDs: PA driver's license, any state driver's license, US passport, military ID
- If an ID looks altered, is expired, or you have any doubt — do not serve. Inform your manager.
- If a guest becomes disruptive or appears intoxicated, do not serve more alcohol. Get your manager.
- You are personally protected when you act in good faith — never let a guest pressure you.

4. Wine Knowledge — What to Know and What to Say

You don't need to be a sommelier. Guests want enthusiasm and honest guidance more than technical expertise. Here's what you need to know to have confident conversations about our wines.

Our Wine Range — Quick Reference

Refer to the Wine List Reference for information about our wines

Tasting Flight Service

- Standard flight = 4 wines, 2 oz pour each. Check current menu for pricing.
- Pour from lightest to boldest — whites first, then reds.
- Briefly describe each wine as you pour: one or two sentences is enough.

The Three Questions That Sell Wine

When a guest says 'I don't know what I want,' ask these:

- "Do you usually prefer red, white, or something in between?"
- "Do you lean toward dry wines or something a little sweeter?"
- "Any wines you already know you like?"

Two or three answers will almost always point you to the right recommendation. If you're genuinely unsure, it's fine to say "Let me grab you a taste of both."

Wine Knowledge Tip

The current wine list and tasting notes are always available in the store's binder. Check the Google Drive for updated lists.

5. Customer Service Standards

Greenhouse Winery is a hospitality business. Our guests choose us over a grocery store wine purchase because of the experience. Your attitude and attention directly drive whether they return, recommend us, or leave a 5-star review.

The Standard We Hold

- Greet every guest within 30 seconds of arrival — even if you're busy. Eye contact and a "be right with you" goes a long way.
- Use guest names when you have them — from a reservation, credit card, or introduction.
- Never let a guest stand waiting at the bar without acknowledgment.
- No phone use at the service counter during customer-facing time.
- Keep personal conversations out of the guest area.

Handling Complaints

Something will go wrong at some point. How you respond matters more than the problem itself.

1. Listen without interrupting. Let them finish.
2. Acknowledge their experience: "I'm sorry that happened — that's not what we want for you."
3. Offer a solution: comp a taste, replace a pour, get your manager if needed.
4. Thank them for telling you. Guests who complain are giving you a chance to fix it.
5. Report all complaints to your manager, even if resolved.

Handling Intoxicated Guests

⚠ Stop Service Protocol

If a guest appears intoxicated, stop serving alcohol immediately and get your manager.
Do not argue or explain at length — be calm and respectful.
Offer water and food if available.
If you have any concern about a guest driving, notify your manager. We have a duty of care.

Events and Live Music Days

On event days, the tasting room operates differently:

- Higher volume means faster pacing — prioritize efficiency without sacrificing hospitality.
- Know the event details before your shift: performer name, start time, ticket vs. walk-in.
- Direct guest questions about the event to your manager or the posted event information.

- Wristbands, ticketing, or cover charges — follow the protocol briefed by your manager for that event.
